Dear Ms. Schweyer:

We have received your CommuteInfo commuter profile. Your information has been reviewed by a ridesharing specialist. Attached is the list that has been generated based on your specifications. Please note this list is sorted with your best matches listed first within each section (carpool, vanpool, bikepool and park-n-ride, if applicable).

CommuteInfo heard from one commuter after they spoke with CommuteInfo staff about her commute and then started riding the bus: "What can I say, I was very hesitant to ride a bus... I have been driving...for years... Now, I am using the bus and I am very happy that I gave the experience a chance. I am now a "regular" with a bus pass. I save around $200 ... a month and I get [time] before and after work to relax and let someone else do the driving!"

If you would like to speak with a ridesharing specialist to discuss your situation further, please call us toll-free at 1-888-819-6110.

Deciding to join a carpool or vanpool is an important decision-and if you decide to join, it could mean involvement with the group for 30, 60 or even 90+ minutes on workdays. CommuteInfo recommends that you take some time to meet your potential ridesharing buddies before making the decision to join a ridesharing arrangement. Contact the driver and/or other riders and set up time for a phone call, coffee or lunch.

Here are some things you may want to ask to help you make your decision:

- * Where will I need to meet the carpool/vanpool?
- * How flexible are the pickup times?
- * Is music played during the commute?
- * Are eating and drinking permitted in the vehicle?
- * Should I be prepared to drive sometimes?
- * What is the back-up plan in case of an emergency?

Also, have you considered transit as an option for your commute? Please check the transit operator map on our website for contact information. (www.commuteinfo.org/comm\_trans.shtml)

If you would like more detailed information on the regional park-n-ride facilities, please visit our website at www.commuteinfo.org/pr.shtml.

After reviewing your matchlist, if you decide to take transit or join a carpool or vanpool, please let us know. The regional CommuteInfo program offers an Emergency Ride Home service and a discounted parking program for our registered carpool and vanpool participants. By letting us know whether you started carpooling or vanpooling, we can update our records and then we can let you know if these incentives are available to you.

Please note your record will remain in our system for one year unless you direct us otherwise. During that time, if you would like us to rerun an updated matchlist for you, just let us know.

Again, thanks for registering with the CommuteInfo program!
